MESSAGE FROM CHAIRLADY OF SYPC

CELINE GOH
GENERAL MANAGER
STEINWAY GALLERY SINGAPORE
STEINWAY BOUTIQUE MANILA

Welcome to the sixth edition of the Steinway Youth Piano Competition (SYPC)!

Over the past two years, the pandemic has truly changed all aspects of life and it certainly has left its impact on the SYPC.

In this, we at the competition have done our best to take all the learning curves since 2020 to even make the competition stronger and more conducive as a platform for young talents to grow and to reach out to a wider audience.

Taking off from 2020 when the competition saw several firsts—i.e introducing the Amateur Class and being possibly among the first competitions in the region to go fully online—this year, the competition continues to push the envelope through observations made over the past 1 ½ years or so.

We have increased the number of judges in the competition to ensure greater rigour. To further, nurture a sense of community and to create opportunities for music community, all the judges are from Singapore or musicians domiciled in Singapore.

We have also noted on how both teachers and students have adapted their learning to an online platform since the previous SYPC. In this, and to ensure that you, the audience, can enjoy the competition from the comfort and safety of your homes, the competition will take the form of a hybrid event.

During the pandemic, circumstances have, in an ironic but yet hopeful way, seen more adults either taking up piano lessons or because of movement restrictions, seen piano loving adults spend more time practising! Hence, the new category in the Amateur Class this year, Youth-at-Heart which is open to amateurs from 35 year of age and above.

We will continue to grow the competition in the coming years, drawing lessons from the pandemic and the new normal that is setting in on us. We will continue to evolve to create a platform that is constantly relevant for young talents and serve the music community.

This year we are encouraged by the number of participants who have competition programmes that promises many days of good music ahead for all.

On behalf of the competition, I wish all music lovers, participants, families, teachers and judges a musically enriching SYPC 2022 ahead!

MS SUTINI GOH

Sutini Goh, came from Indonesia to Singapore to study the piano at the NAFA, under the tutelage of Mr. Benjamin Loh. She received a scholarship to pursue the joint-degree B.A. (Hons) in Music programme between NAFA and the University of Wales. At NAFA, she consistently placed among the top students in her cohort, and was frequently awarded bursaries and grants.

In 1999 and 2000, Sutini was invited to play at the Young Pianist of the New Millennium competition, and her performance was broadcast over Singapore's classical radio station. Today she is an acclaimed competition winner and pianist (with a predilection for Bach, Chopin, and Liszt), and her students have won many accolades as well. In her subsequent years in Singapore, Sutini has successfully balanced the role of teacher and performer.

Many of her students have been awarded prizes in National and International piano competitions. As a pianist, Sutini has given numerous public performances, as both soloist and chamber musician, such as solo recital at Chijmes Hall (part of the Music Box event organised by The Esplanade), perform a piano trio at the Ong Teng Cheong Concert at Esplanade Concert Hall, in Esplanade Recital Hall. And in December 2006 and September 2012, she was part of the Singapore team that performed in the Asia Grand Piano Concert at the prestigious Seoul Arts Center Concert Hall in Korea.

Sutini is also a prize winner of numerous international competitions such as 6th All-Japan Piano Concours, the 19th International Young Musician Competition in Italy, the 9th International Chopin Piano Competition in Asia, and the Honorable Mention in the Bradshaw & Buono International Piano Competition, USA.

In recent years, she has been invited to be on the jury panel locally and internationally.

OUR DISTINGUISHED JUDGES

MS ROXANA TANG

Roxana Tang, pianist, music educator, choral conductor, examiner, author and publisher of 6 piano books, has a vast experience over her 40 years of teaching. Her students have achieved High Scorer's Awards, won first prize in piano competitions and distinctions in diploma examinations. Having recently conducted many sessions for piano teachers over zoom on the subject of neurally wiring aural training with piano playing,

Roxana has successfully introduced her new piano books around the globe. Besides music, Roxana is also a wholesome life enthusiast, recommending improved lifestyle choices, including exercise, gardening in the sun, plant-based diet and more.

MS NIKI TEO

Niki Teo is the Founder and Principal at Niki's Music Studio, currently situated at Tanglin Shopping Centre.

At Niki's Music Studio, we aim to journey alongside every music enthusiast with a personal touch. Niki began her musical journey at the tender age of 4 and has picked up various instruments along the way. She has attained her Grade 8 Practical and Theory ABRSM in Piano, Grade 8 LCM in Voice, and Grade 3 Royal College of Music in Violin as a third instrument. She also took up a leadership role in her high school choir and led them for various SYF competitions. Her school's choir won a Gold award for an international competition at Carnegie Hall in New York City. Niki graduated from Singapore Polytechnic with a Diploma in Music and Audio Technology and received the Music and Arts Scholarship Award for all 3 years. She was also the Featured Artiste in her final year for her original song 'Aches of Love'.

Another one of her original songs, "Closer to the Edge" was broadcast live on national radio 92.0FM, with a live showcase at an event organised by Budweiser. After obtaining her diploma, Niki was offered a place in Boston's Berklee College of Music.

Niki has taught for years at various music schools, including one of the most reputable music schools in Singapore, the Lee Wei Song School of Music (李伟菘音乐学校). Deeply passionate about both music and teaching, her students have achieved gold medals for school music competitions, and one of them has successfully joined the Vienna Boys' Choir. In recent years, Niki has several students who have achieved distinctions in their piano and vocal examinations.

In addition to her passion for teaching, Niki has recently completed a Piano Pedagogy course in Yong Siew Toh Conservatory of Music at National University of Singapore. Occasionally, she would perform with her band "Niki & Friends". The band plays a variety of music genres, from contemporary pop, jazz, R&B, soul, rock and oldies.
